

Remember when we could have a cold one and a smoke without some yuppie whining?

You mean when America was still free,...before drug companies started dictating law?

Yeah I remember,...but at least we don't have to think for ourselves anymore.

Personal responsibility was so over-rated anyway.
Thanks to the American Cancer Society.